SUBJECT: Employer Directive 2006-03
SB 1465 (Chapter 654, Statutes of 2006) and Implementation of AB 1586 (Chapter 442, Statutes of 2004)
Community College Part-time and Adult Education Instructors
Reporting Base Hours for 2006-07 School Year

PURPOSE

The purpose of this directive is to inform employers of the enactment of SB 1465 (Chapter 654, Statutes of 2006), which, in part, relates to the implementation of AB 1586 (Chapter 442, Statutes of 2004). SB 1465 gives the California State Teachers' Retirement System (CalSTRS) the authority to establish and implement certain factors and assumptions to determine the compensation earnable of a member employed by a community college prior to July 1, 1996.

SCOPE

This directive applies to all community college districts that employ part-time and adult education instructors to perform creditable service under CalSTRS' Defined Benefit (DB) Program.

AB 1586 requires CalSTRS to recalculate the benefits of part-time instructors and adult education instructors who were members of CalSTRS' DB Program, employed by a community college prior to July 1, 1996, and retired on or after that date. The purpose of the recalculation is to address a possible inadvertent reduction in benefits.

The employer must annually report to CalSTRS the standard (number of base hours) used to determine a full-time position for part-time and adult education instructors. It is critical for you to provide this information as it is needed for CalSTRS to perform the comparison calculations for affected members.

DISCUSSION

Prior to July 1, 1996, the law stated that the minimum standard for all community college instructors was 1,050 hours per school year. Effective July 1, 1996, and clarified January 1, 1999, in California Education Code, Section 22138.5, the minimum standards for community college part-time instructors and adult education instructors were reduced to 525 instructional hours and 875 hours respectively.

It is important to realize that these are minimum standards and that it is not mandatory for a community college district to convert to a lower standard. The intent of the changes to the Education Code, however, is to establish standards that accurately reflect the full-time teaching load for part-time and adult education community college instructors.

The changes to the minimum standard resulted in community college instructors hired on a part-time basis accruing service credit at an accelerated rate. If an employer converted to a lower standard, the employee's compensation earnable was reduced proportionately; this action may have had the unintended consequence of lowering the member's final compensation when they went into benefit status.

ACTION

CalSTRS will recalculate the benefits of community college part-time and adult education instructors who meet all of the following criteria:

1. were hired by a California community college before July 1, 1996,
2. received a benefit on or after July 1, 1996, and
3. their employer converted to a lower standard (lower number of base hours) after July 1, 1996.

In order for CalSTRS to perform a benefit comparison calculation for eligible members, each community college district is required to provide CalSTRS with the standard (number of base hours) used. The number of base hours is usually determined by the district through the collective bargaining process.

The base hours will eventually be captured by the system on a per member per assignment basis. In order to expedite the process, however, CalSTRS is currently requesting that you provide us with the base hours used by your district for the 2006-07 school year.
