Loss of Two Years of Service Credit from the CalSTRS Retirement Incentive Program

CalSTRS Retirement Incentive Program participants will lose the two-year service credit incentive if any of the following take place:

They take any job with the employer that offered the incentive within five years of retirement

They receive unemployment benefits within one year of their retirement date

They reinstate to active CalSTRS membership

Employer Responsibilities

Employer Responsibilities

Advise employees of restrictions and limitations

Maintain records and report monthly earnings to CalSTRS

Inform retirees of the amount of monthly earnings reported to CalSTRS

Things to consider...

- Are they performing retired member or participant activities?
- Are they within the Separation-from-Service timeframe? Or are they exempt?
- Will they earn more than the Annual Earnings Limitation for the year?
- Do you have internal procedures to track and report retirees to CalSTRS and retirees?
